Jug City owners will rebuild

by Russ Duhaime

It didn't take long for the owners of Westside Jug City to regroup after last Monday's three-alarm fire leveled their Minden convenience store and central warehouse.

Within days, the Moore family had set up office space downtown to oversee the operation of their remaining three stores and were in the process of securing a lease on new warehouse space.

Amid meetings with the fire adjuster, insurance agent, and assorted others, the Moores also found time to begin plans for rebuilding.

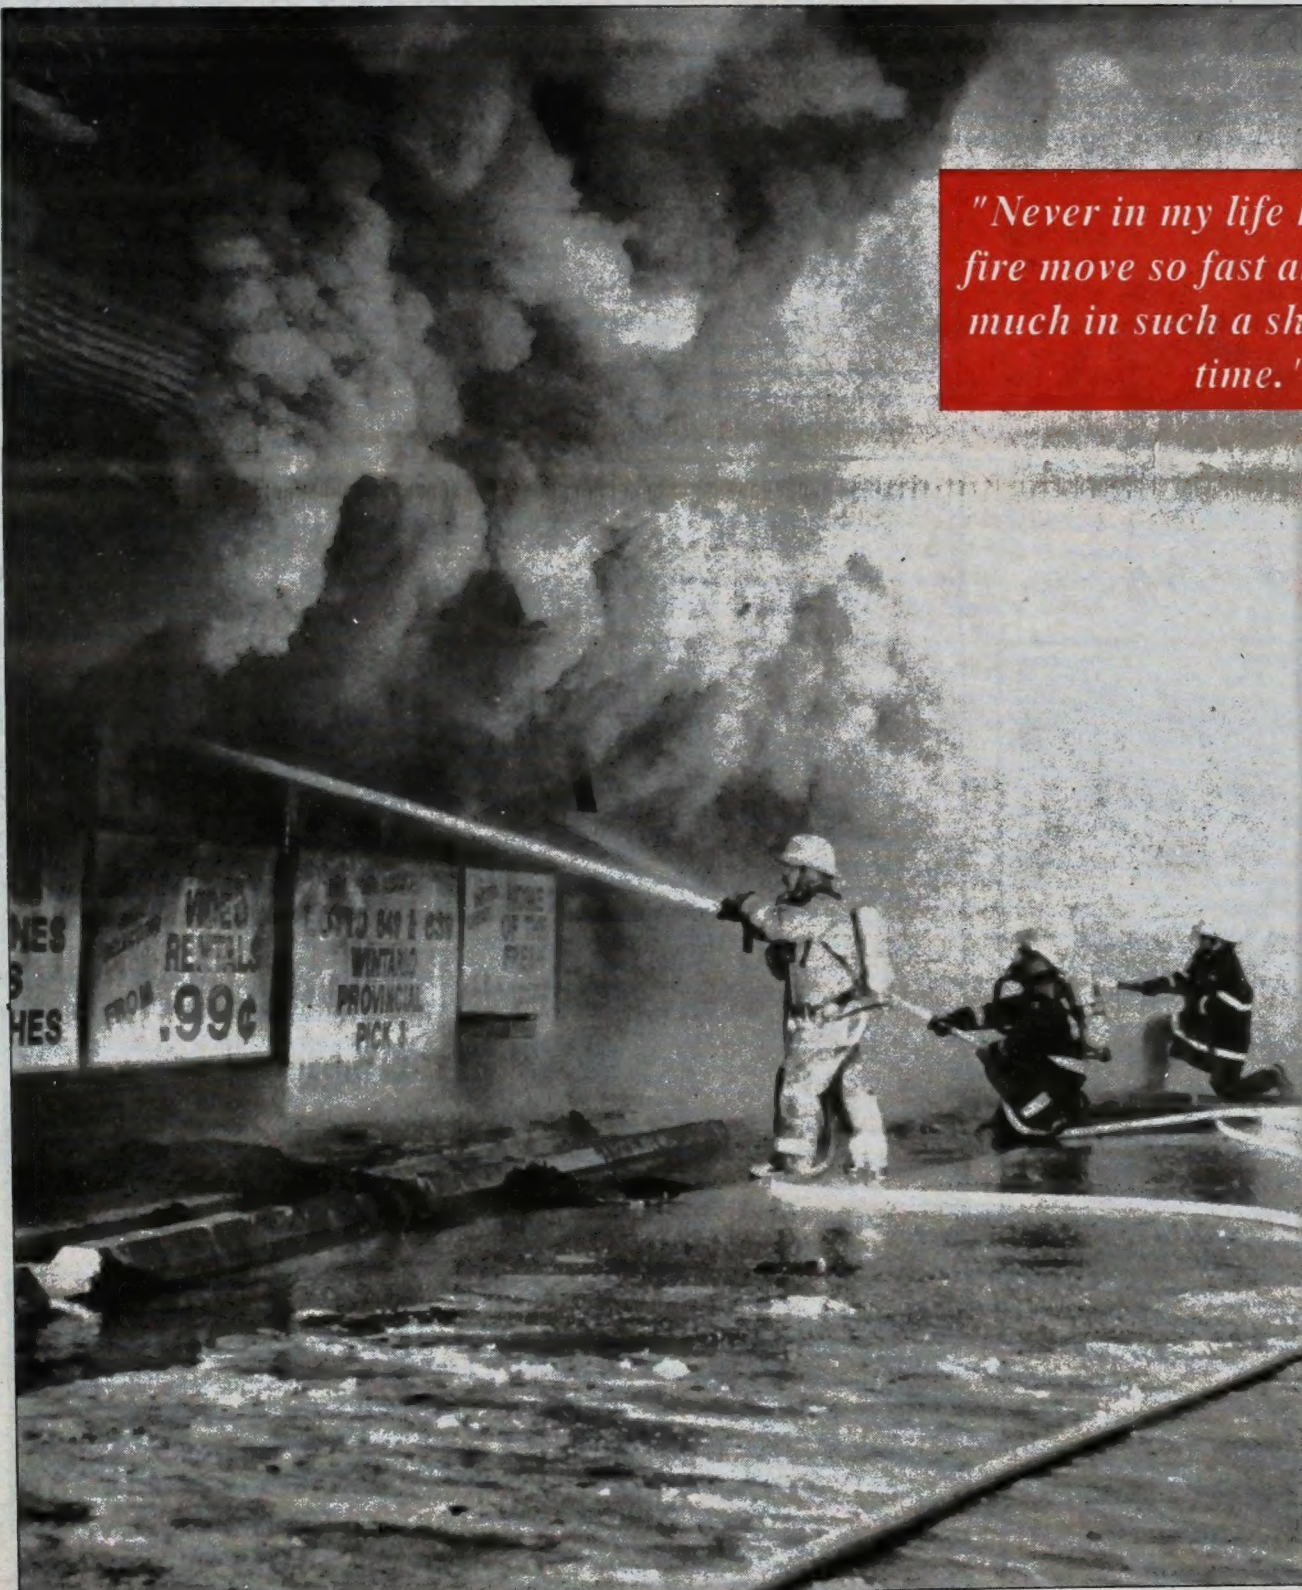

The fire broke out in the warehouse of the Highway 35 store last Monday afternoon. The flames spread quickly throughout the 60-year-old wood frame building, leaving employees little time to safely flee.

Although Minden firefighters arrived within 10 minutes of the call, there was no hope of saving the 15,000 square foot building. Instead, they concentrated on preventing its spread to an adjacent house and business establishments.

Minden's firefighters were soon joined in the effort

"Never in my life have I seen a fire move so fast and destroy so much in such a short period of time."

Fanned by a stiff westerly wind, flames quickly engulfed the warehouse and then the retail portion of the Jug City store on Highway 35 in Minden late Monday afternoon. Fire fighters from Minden, Dysart and Stanhope fought the blaze which sent a towering plume of smoke into the air. The convenience store, warehouse, business offices, adjacent hair dressing salon and gas bar office were destroyed. A home, on the east side of the building, which was threatened for a time, was saved from the flames.

Cuts run deep in county budget

by Russ Duhaime

In light of a 30 per cent tax hike in its preliminary budget, Haliburton County Council is beginning to make cuts.

Deep cuts.

The county's planning, economic development and waste management functions were axed last Wednesday at the close of a marathon meeting in Minden.

"This," says Warden Jim McMahon "is only the start."

The dissolution of these three departments is a "reflection of the finances of the county," said McMahon. "I'm not prepared to hit the taxpayers of this county with a two digit tax increase. The only way around this is by restructuring."

When McMahon was elected Warden he promised a pragmatic approach to the business of running the county. Since the start of his term, the county has hired a treasurer to provide a clear financial picture and is now beginning to make necessary spending cuts.

By scrubbing the planning, economic development and waste management departments, the county will trim $145,000 off the budget wish list. Council will also be shelving its plans for an official land-use plan and a Waste Management Masterplan.

The cuts also mean layoffs for four employees. Mark Stagg, who heads up all three departments will be out of work at the end of March. His three assistants will face similar circumstances.

"As much as I hate to see that happen, I can't go to the taxpayers with a double-digit tax increase," McMahon said.

"It's time to get back to basics," said McMahon. "Then we can grow as the economy grows."

Stagg's departments were chosen for two reasons, the warden said. Firstly, the county will feel no immediate impact from the loss of these departments, since their chief tasks were to conduct studies. Secondly, McMahon said there was no consensus among councillors on what direction those studies should be heading.

Ironically, the three departments coming under the axe operated within their budgets in 1993. Welfare, Roads and Hyland Crest, however, are expected to come in well over budget, putting a heavy burden on the budget for the coming year.

Cost overruns with few reserves force council to take unusual measures.

The Welfare department is anticipating a shortfall of about $65,000 while the number of active claims continues to climb. Last month there were 1,575 active claims and case workers were juggling case loads that were almost double ministry guidelines. The county agreed last Wednesday to hire an additional case worker to ease the work load.

The roads department recently discovered it overspent its 1993 budget by about $250,000. Fortunately, the department was able to transfer $225,000 from a machinery reserve to offset that deficit.

That's the end of the reserves, though. Rather than increase taxes in 1993, council opted to draw $144,000 from its reserves. That decision is now coming back to haunt them.

Because the reserve wells are dry, the county is not able to take advantage of the $1.3-million being offered under the Canada-Ontario Infrastructure Program. In order to access that money, the county would have to contribute $657,000. McMahon said the only way to do this is by borrowing — something no one on council wants to do.

Preparation of this year's budget is just beginning. Once council gets farther into the process, McMahon said council will be looking for other areas for savings.

"Once we get into the budget, we'll have to take a look at services and how to deliver them in a cost-effective manner."

by volunteers from Dysart and Stanhope. Despite having problems with frozen fire hydrants the 50 firefighters from the three crews succeeded in the seemingly impossible task of containing the blaze.

And while the fire raged on, the employees and owners of the three businesses involved stood by and watched their livelihood go up in smoke.

In addition to the convenience store, the Jug City building housed Leon and Joyce Wright's Cango gas bar and Sonya Smith's hair salon. The building acted as a central warehouse for Jug City stores in Haliburton, Bobcaygeon and Bracebridge. It was also the family-owned company's head office.

The event was devastating to watch, said Brian Moore, co-owner of Jug City. "Never in my life have I seen a fire move so fast and destroy so much in such a short period of time."

The cause of the fire and the extent of the damage are yet to be determined. Moore says it's a daunting task to try to remember everything that was in the building. Most of the company's records were lost.

"It's so hard to remember all the things that were lost. The photographs, the appreciation awards . . . all the things from the first day we opened the store are irretrievably lost."

In the wake of the tragedy, though, the Moore family has pulled together in the mission of rebuilding by the spring. As soon as the Fire Marshal's investigation and insurance paperwork is complete, Moore says, the rebuilding process will begin.

"From the time the fire happened there was never a doubt in my mind that we'd rebuild," he said.

Moore's parents, Ray and Gloria, were on vacation in Florida when this happened. They cut their vacation short and returned to Minden Wednesday to discuss future plans with the partners in the business. "Once the shock cleared, we convened a board meeting and decided to rebuild."

Moore says he's very thankful to the firefighters for their work throughout the afternoon and evening. He says he is thankful that no one was hurt and that the firefighters were able limit the damage to just the one building.

Initially, the firemen attempted to confine the blaze to the warehouse at the rear, however a steady west wind soon pushed the flames into the retail area at the front. BELOW: firemen struggle to change air tanks in the race against the flames and thick smoke.

Ice encrusted and twisted, the charred front facade of the Jug City store provides mute evidence Tuesday to the fury of the fire.

A Stroke of Luck

Pair pulled from Boshkung by passersby

by Jerry Grozelle

Two Carnarvon area men are lucky to be alive.

Harold Harrison, 59, and Wesley Smith, 37, were crossing Boshkung Lake near Butter-milk Falls, on a snowmobile at about 2 p.m. on February 14, when the ice gave way and they were dumped into the frigid water.

Luckily, passing motorists saw that something was out of place. That something was the helmets of the two snowmobilers.

Garth Mole, who is a member of the Stanhope Volunteer Fire Department, was north-bound on Highway 35 when he saw Cecil Penney looking at a patch of open water. Mole turned around and joined Penney at the side of the road.

Penney commented that he thought it might be a pair of loons.

"I told him the loons would all be gone south by now," Mole said. "So, I yelled and they yelled back 'help, bring a rope'."

A second stroke of luck was the fact that Penney had a long rope in his truck. The two rescuers made their way down to the ice where Mole tied the rope around his waist and walked as far out towards the two men in the water as he dared. The last 25 to 30 feet, he crawled on his stomach to where he could reach Harrison's hand.

When he had Harrison by both hands, Mole signaled to be pulled back. Penny had been joined by Tom Gardner and Doug Quibell, who had happened by and stopped to help. Together, they managed to pull the two men at the other end of the rope to safety.

"Harold looked in really bad

"Harold looked in really bad shape. He'll never be that close to death again until he is dead. But he kept saying, 'go and get my buddy.'" shape," Mole said. "He'll never be that close to death again until he is dead. But he kept saying, 'go and get my buddy'."

Mole went back onto the thin ice to get the second man.

"When I got back out there, he seemed to be in good spirits," Mole said.

But there was another problem to deal with. Smith is a big man, close to 300 pounds. Smith told Mole that they would never be able to pull the two of them out like they had with Harrison. So Mole untied the rope from around his waist and gave it to Smith, who fastened it around himself.

Mole then crawled back to join the others in pulling Smith from the lake.

Mole gives Smith credit for keeping Harrison alive.

"If it hadn't been for Wesley, I think Harold would have been a gonner," Mole said. "Wesley kept him going."

A number of factors contributed to the fact that Harrison and Smith are still alive today. Penney and Mole happened by at an opportune time and gave more than a casual glance at something that seemed out of place. Penney had a long rope in his truck. The others stopped to help. The weather conditions allowed them to be seen — and the list goes on.

"All of the circumstances were just right," Mole said. "Somebody upstairs was looking after Harold and Wesley that day."

Harrison and Smith were on their way to shovel snow off a cottage roof when their snow machine crashed through the ice. The two men spent about 10 minutes in the water.

After their rescue, Harrison and Smith were transported by ambulance to the Minden Hospital where they were treated and released.

"They were awful lucky," said Kathy Harrison, Harold's wife. "I'm glad somebody saw them go in, otherwise they'd have been gonners."

The snowmobile was recovered from the lake the next day.

GOLDEN RULE

Pair helps others to cope with cold

... but they need an outlet to distribute the free clothing

by Russ Duhaime

Judith Merritt and Sandra Patenaude want to offer free clothing to people in need, but there's just one thing standing in the way.

The Lutterworth Township residents have arranged for a reliable supply of good free clothing and they're anxious to donate their time to help others in need. However, they are in need of an outlet to display and distribute their goods.

"We're praying that God will find a place in town," says Judith, who already has a van-load of sleeping bags from a mission in Toronto.

Through their connection with People With a Purpose, Sandra and Judith have arranged for a steady supply of clothing, which was donated during the Operation Chill-out campaign in the Toronto area.

It's all good clothing, says Judith. Some of the clothing is second-hand, but much is factory seconds with very minor flaws, she said.

With the high unemployment and welfare roles in this county, Judith and Sandra are afraid there are people who can't afford the warm clothing they need to go out in the winter. "We want to make this available to those who can't afford," said Judith.

Four C's in Haliburton already offers used clothing to area residents. While this service is commendable, Judith wonders if the Haliburton location is sufficient to serve everyone in need.

"A third of the population is on welfare. If they can't afford to buy clothes, how can they afford to buy gas to go to 4C's?"

Judith also says she would

Judith Merritt and Sandra Patenaude are seeking an outlet to distribute clothing.

prefer that the outlet not be linked with any one church. In order to reach out to everyone, regardless of their religion, she feels a non-denominational outlet is best.

Judith and Sandra moved to the area last fall and have established a Christian mission called "Put the Word Into Action." While they can't afford to pay rent on a building, the mission is able to offer a receipt that can be used as a tax deduction.

For the past several years,

Judith says she has followed the word of God in all of her actions. God brought Judith and Sandra to Haliburton County, and she says she is confident God will help them find an outlet to distribute their free clothing.

Big tax hike for Somerville if landowners win at OMB

Somerville Township Reeve John Huke is worried.

He is concerned that the majority of taxpayers of Somerville Township could be saddled with a substantial tax hike if the people who own property along the Burnt River are awarded a 35 per cent reduction in their property taxes because of the flood of 1990.

An Ontario Municipal Board hearing regarding the reduction of taxes to some properties along the Burnt River in Somerville Township has been set for March 28. The hearing will be held at the Kinmount Community Centre at 1 p.m. on that Monday afternoon.

Huke said a county study has shown that if all of the properties that lie within the flood-prone areas of the river are awarded a 35 per cent tax reduction, it would translate to a 22 per cent reduction in the township's tax base.

That, in turn would raise the taxes of the rest of the township's ratepayers to make up that 22 per cent.

"I feel that those people (who own property along the river) deserve to be compensated," Huke said. "But not by the rest of the people of the township."

"I'd like to see some of the people who don't live along the Burnt River come out to the OMB hearing to voice their concerns because their taxes will have to go up."

Liberal leader calls for health care study

McLeod talks health care with Ross Memorial staff

by Jerry Grozelle

Provincial Liberal leader Lyn McLeod paid a visit to Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay last Wednesday afternoon to discuss health care with hospital officials.

McLeod also spent some time mainstreeting with Victoria-Haliburton riding Liberal candidate Sharon McCrae. McCrae's campaign office was officially opened.

McLeod told hospital officials in Lindsay that she was impressed by the positive reaction of hospital staff and officials in working within ministry guidelines.

"Ross Memorial Hospital is clearly up in the efficiency range," McLeod said, citing the hospital's 78 per cent outpatient rate.

In regard to health care across the board, McLeod says she sees two main problems. The first is that people feel overtaxed.

"We need to hold the tax line while we manage the debt," she said.

The second problem is that people aren't convinced that they are getting value for their money in the health care field.

She said that health care fraud has been estimated to be as low as $20-million and as high as $700-million a year.

"Nobody is sure what the actual losses are," McLeod said. "But it has to be dealt with."

Of interest to local residents, McLeod had the following comments regarding health care in Haliburton County:

"I did meet with a concerned citizens hospital committee in Minden and very clearly, they have concerns about the decision that will be made about the long term care facility and where it will go. The decision could have an effect on the ability of Minden to keep its hospital going.

"I thought the local citizens hospital committee brought some very important information forward. They (the committee members) feel that information has not been fully considered by the health council and they want the ministry to at least give fair consideration to the points that they're making when they look at the location of the long term care hospital.

"I think it's absolutely critical that the ministry look at the total issue of health care in the Haliburton County area. What is the future of the hospitals in each of those communities and how does the decision on the long term care facility support the future of the community hospital?"

McLeod pointed out that the ministry has indicated that the funding that has been made available is not just for long term care, but also for the upgrading of the hospital in Minden as well.

"I think the ministry has the responsibility to say what's the most effective use of these dollars to make sure that we can keep the health care that's needed in both of these communities," McLeod said.

When asked how high health care is on her list of priorities, McLeod said: "Right next to jobs, in terms of where I think people are concerned, there's no question that the jobs issue continues to be the number one concern. Health care is the issue that I hear second most. Thirdly is education."

McCrae is sympathetic to the concerns people in Haliburton County have regarding health care. She said that she attended a meeting here and "the ministry didn't appear to be sensitive to the needs of the small community."

McCrae added that the proximity to the highway is very important.

"Emergency health care in Minden is essential."

She says that any decisions that are made regarding health care in Haliburton County will have to be rationalized.

"We have to challenge the NDP government to make sure that the rural people in Ontario have access to the same health care as the urban people," she concluded.

Comforting

"This is why I live here....this is why I live in a small community."

The words are those of Brian Moore. He was commenting during an interview in our office following the fire which destroyed a portion of his family business last Monday. Brian was referring to the outpouring of support and offers of assistance and co-operation which have flowed from individuals, officials and the community in general.

The attitude experienced by the Moores is the silver lining that makes up for the supposed lost amenities of big city life, in a community of our size. While this sense of shared responsibility is tested on a daily basis in many small ways, it is during times of serious crisis that it shines through best and we become vividly aware of the hidden weave which knits our community together.

For those on the scene last Monday during the midst of the crisis, the burden sharing was obvious. Members of the family and business partners who watched as years of work disappeared in smoke found comfort in the many individuals who sought them out and offered words of encouragement. The co-operative effort of the fire departments in the county amply demonstrated that community interest and caring knows no boundaries. And the support the fire-fighters received on the scene was tremendous.

The comments by Brian Moore reflect the feelings most people have about our community; feelings that sometimes are not obvious but are non-the-less there and provide ongoing comfort.

Cuts are necessary

The county council has made some deep cuts to its operation in an attempt to head off a double digit tax increase this year. The Warden tells us there are more in the offing.

We are encouraged by this direct and unfortunately drastic action. This county is not currently in a position to support every pipe-dream that is concocted by some civil servant in some ivory tower in downtown Toronto.

Yes, we believe in good planning and yes, we think the county needs a master plan to deal with the garbage disposal. However, what we don't need is to implement programs such as these when the local economy is in such a sorry state. These programs, though important, should be implemented when the community and economy can support them. To go to the taxpayers now with an exorbitant tax demand will only hog-tie the local economy further.

The county has placed itself in a precarious position. The reserves were tapped to reduce last year's tax burden and cover 1993 deficits. There is little room to manoeuvre and, as the councilors have correctly realized, this is not the time to be borrowing money.

Let's get things moving again and be sure the community can afford to pay before we stumble blindly into a deeper commitment.

JobsOntario taps free enterprise

'Did you ever wonder where the money comes from?'

Editor,

I am one of those "few critics" of JobsOntario. As you wrote, this program throws money at the immense unemployment problem. Did you ever wonder where this money comes from? First, it comes out of every person who is involved in free enterprise. Second, it comes out of the next generation's pocket, which will have to pay more taxes to pay off today's government's borrowing. And thirdly, when the government prints more money, it devalues all of our possessions and money.

Total state control which is ultimate socialism, has no unemployment. You do what Big Brother tells you; for what they give you. Of course, like the old USSR. We may have to kill off a few million people once in a while, but that's a cheap price to pay for a noble ideal. (As any dictator!)

Next you write of the wise investment like non-profit housing project for Kinmount. Need I remind you that anything the government does costs more and does less than private enterprise?

I hope that state control never reaches you personally. Can you see paying more taxes so that the government can start a non-profit newspaper? They could pay higher wages, charge less for advertising and deliver at no charge to your old customers. The customers would not see the direct affect on their taxes and would not come to your aid because you helped them realise that for-profit is a four-letter-word.

Finally, I would like to point out that unemployment is caused by the government. I could hire more help with the money I pay in taxes. I would have bought a new truck sooner and probably spent more on my business to make it better. This creates real jobs that last instead of promoting more government intervention or control.

No excuse for missed bus ride

Editor,

This is in regards to Brad Archer's letter on February 14 in The Times.

I also have children who ride a bus to school. My wife and I have a very good idea of what time the bus arrives at our home daily. Our children also learned this at a very early age. There is no reason for any child who rides a bus to not be out on time for their ride. Bad weather or not, there are no excuses.

If a bus driver was to wait even one minute for each child, that would leave your child and mine 60 to 70 minutes late for school (depending on how many ride on the bus).

Tell me something. If you were late one to three times a week for work, do you feel your employer would stand by and do nothing? Think about that.

Bus drivers have 70 kids to consider

Editor,

Regarding a letter published in your Feb. 14 edition entitled "Tired of being left standing in the cold." I wonder what Mr. Archer's reaction would be in a very different scenario.

It's 35 degrees below zero. His step son and daughter are shivering on the side of the road waiting for the school bus to arrive. However, the bus isn't on time. Five minutes late and the kids are cold. Ten, 15 minutes late and the kids are freezing, possibly in danger of frostbite.

Where is that bus?

The driver has 60 to 70 kids to pick up before arriving and the Archers' house. Even if the driver has to wait one minute for only half the kids, the bus could be up to 30 minutes late getting to his kids. Not to mention the confusion a school bus stopped on the side of the road causes to other users of the road.

Does Mr. Archer still feel the bus should stop and wait for his kids? You can't wait for one and not all.

Drivers do their best to arrive at each stop at the same time each day so no one is left behind or left standing in the cold for any longer than necessary.

Firefighters' efforts are appreciated

Editor,

We would like to extend our thanks and appreciation to the Minden, Stanhope and Dysart volunteer fire departments for a job well done in containing the Jug City blaze on Monday, February 14.

While it is unfortunate that it was impossible to save the Jug City building, the fire departments did an excellent job of keeping the fire from spreading to surrounding buildings.

At times like those, one truly acquires an appreciation of the efforts of the people who staff these volunteer brigades and the countless hours they devote to keep personnel and equipment ready to respond to emergencies such as the one experienced last Monday.

Firefighters deserve praise for success in containing fire.

Good intentions bring a flood of mail

It could happen to you the next time you pick up your mail.

There, nestled in among the grocery store flyers and the dreaded envelopes with ominous cellophane windows, you spy a letter with a strange postmark and an unfamiliar return address. Curious, you tear it open.

And you find yourself reading a chain letter.

But this one's a different kind of chain letter. It doesn't promise you untold riches or a fabulous sex life or an eternity of foul luck if you don't send off copies of the chain letters to six other unsuspecting saps.

No, this chain letter tells you the heartbreaking story of little Craig Shergold. Craig is a seven-year-old British schoolboy, says the letter. It also tells you that Craig has an inoperable brain tumour and only one wish in the world.

Craig wants to be in the Guinness Book of World Records. He hopes to get there by becoming the human being to receive the most mail in history.

And you can help, the letter says. Just drop him a line — or just address an envelope and pop your business card inside.

Jeez, it's little enough to ask for a kid who's dying, right?

Well, I've five words of advice for you should you receive this letter.

Throw it in the garbage.

Sound heartless? Hey, if Craig Shergold could talk to you he would beg you to throw it in the garbage. Yes, there really is a Craig Shergold, and he really did have a dream of getting into the Guinness Book of World Records. But that was away back in 1989. Before the dream turned into a kind of nightmare.

Craig's letter touched a lot of hearts. Within weeks of sending his request to a few local newspapers, the

"We've got a 10,000 square-foot warehouse that is stacked to the ceiling with mail that still hasn't been opened."

Black'n White

by Arthur Black

lad's local post office in Carshalton, England was inundated with letters addressed to Craig Shergold.

Before long the post office was receiving 600 sacks of mail.

Every day.

Part of the problem was that Craig wasn't just a U. K. phenomenon. His letter came to the attention of a group called The Children's Wish Foundation in Atlanta, Georgia, which tries to grant the wishes of terminally ill children. It decided to alert the business executives of the continent to Craig's project.

That was five years and tens of millions of cards and letters ago.

"We've got a 10,000 square-foot warehouse that is stacked to the ceiling with mail that still hasn't been opened," moans Arthur Stein, president of the Foundation. "There's no way to stop it. Everyone keeps saying quit, and people ignore the pleas."

It's become so bad in Britain that British Post has assigned Craig Shergold his own personal postal code — an honour usually reserved for large towns or counties.

So has the Craig Shergold letter just been a giant migraine for all concerned? On the contrary. This is one chain letter that actually delivered — albeit in ways no one ever intended.

For one thing, Craig Shergold did make the Guinness Book of World Records. It happened in 1991 when his mail topped the 30 million mark. (Guinness authorities shrewdly retired the category so they wouldn't have to go through this again.)

For another thing, it looks like Craig's condition is cured. An American billionaire, John W. Kluge, read of the boy's plight and paid for him to be flown over and treated by a neurosurgeon in Virginia. More than 90 percent of Craig's brain tumour was removed and the doctors pronounced him cured.

That was three years ago. But the mail just keeps on flooding in.

So if you get a copy of the Craig Shergold chain letter, do the world a favour. Chuck it in the recycling box.

Craig Shergold would thank you for it if he could.

So would the besieged employees of the Children's Wish Foundation.

Not to mention the forests of the world.

The Westside Jug City Family would like to sincerely thank (and where do we begin?) all the Firefighters of Minden, Dysart and Stanhope Fire Departments for such a great job, and our wonderful friends/customers for all their help, sincere concern, and words of encouragement.

We thank God no one was injured, and if the good Lord is willing, we will be commencing to rebuild as soon as possible.

There are many individuals who deserve to be mentioned, from the Bell guys, to the girls who made sandwiches for the firefighters, to our own family members, but unfortunately, if we started to list all of them we would surely miss someone. But YOU know who you are and our deepest gratitude goes to you.

Our family would also like to thank our customers for all their support over the last eight years. Your patronage and loyalty have given us the strength to carry on.

Locals do well at Minden invitational

The Minden Skating Club hosted its 7th annual Minden Meet To Skate Invitational Competition on the weekend of February 5 and 6 with about 160 skaters participating. Sixteen members of the Minden club were among the competitors.

Following are the results of the Minden skaters:

In the pre-preliminary freeskate, Kate Heming finished seventh. Jennifer Wales was sixth in the second flight and Jennifer Orpana was eighth in the third flight.

Proficiency freeskate results saw Jasmine Wilson finish fifth in the first flight. Tanya Peacock was second in the second flight and she also placed sixth in the final.

The preliminary A men's freeskate saw Daniel Vanderlip place second in the final.

Tristan Pawluch finished second in the junior bronze A men's freeskate.

Katrina Matysek was seventh in the junior bronze B ladies' final.

In the preliminary A ladies' elements, Jasmine Wilson was sixth in the first flight. Jennifer Wales was fourth in the second flight and Jennifer Orpana was seventh in the third flight.

Katrina Matysek and Tristan Pawluch placed second in the juvenile pairs final.

The pre-novice ladies' long program final saw Louise Howell finish eleventh and Marita Schrader was twelfth.

Julie Vanderlip took fourth place in the junior bronze A ladies' freeskate final and third in the junior bronze A ladies' freeskate second flight.

Krista Matysek and Daniel Vanderlip were fourth in the pre-juvenile pairs final.

In the pre-novice ladies' short program final, Marita Schrader was second and Louise Howell was third.

Julie Vanderlip placed third in the junior bronze A elements final.

Kerri Matysek was fourth in the first flight of the preliminary B freeskate while Krista Matysek was sixth in the second flight.

Julie Vanderlip and Tristan Pawluch were first in the final of the senior bronze dance competition.

The final of the open ladies' elements saw Cori Barkwell place second while Janene Garbutt was fifth and Andrea Pawluch was seventh.

Kerri Matysek was third in the first flight of the preliminary B ladies' elements. She was also fifth in the final.

The novice ladies long program final saw Janene

Garbutt finish fifth, while Andrea Pawluch was seventh and Cori Barkwell was tenth.

Nancy Garbutt, chairperson of the event, said that it was very successful.

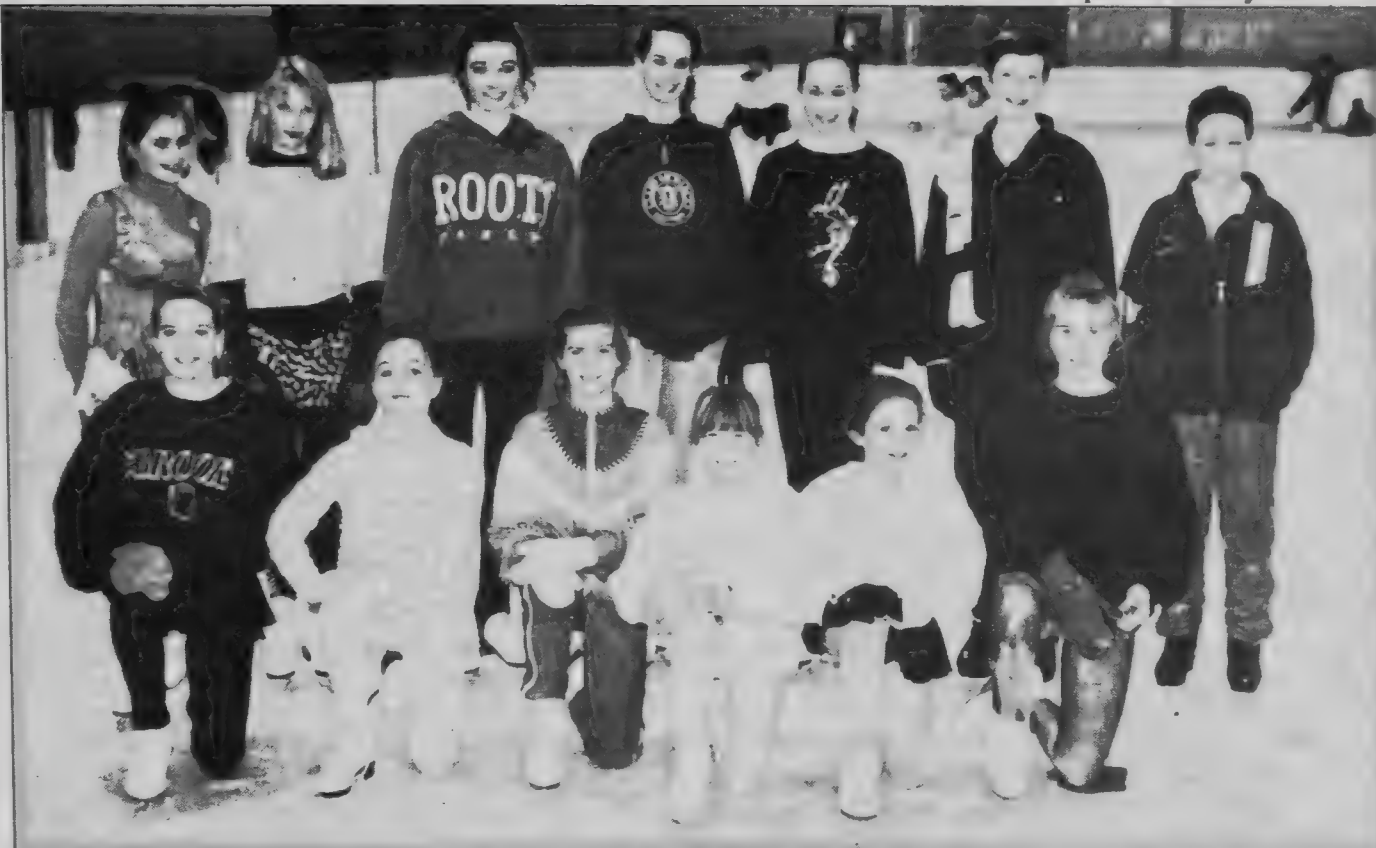

"I would like to thank our sponsors and volunteers," Garbutt said.

"Whether it was time, food, money, a raffle item, goody bag loot, ice or an event donation, each and every one was gratefully received.

"This event is our main fund-raiser for the season. All the money raised benefits the CanSkate and test programs. To the Meet To Skate committee, a huge thank you, you all made being chairperson of this event an easy and enjoyable experience.

"Let's look forward to a bigger and better competition next year."

Local participants: The Minden Skating Club was well represented at the Minden Meet To Skate Invitational Competition. Participants included: front row (l to r) Julie Vanderlip, Tanya Peacock, Krista Matysek, Kerri Matysek, Jasmine Wilson and Katrina Matysek. Novice B Monarchs end season two and two in wins and losses

by Jerry Grozelle

Two wins and a pair of losses rounded out the regular season for the Minden novice B Monarchs hockey team.

A couple of games against the Haliburton Huskies in late January produced two shutouts for Minden goalie Alex Lydiat.

The first of those games was a 4-0 win for Minden and the second ended with a 5-0 victory.

Kevin Walker started things off for the Monarchs in the second game against Haliburton. Walker scored early in the first period with assists going to Willy Meecham and Shane Both.

Justin Horsley notched the second goal of the game, from Walker and Both.

Colin Vaters and Benji Saunders teamed up to add three more to the Minden tally. Saunders was the set-up man on all three, while Vaters was the trigger man for the hat trick.

The last two games of the regular season saw the Monarchs lose a 2-1 heartbreaker to Wilberforce and give up a 5-2 decision to Fenelon Falls.

In Wilberforce, the home team drew first blood and held a 1-0 lead until Colin Vaters scored for Minden. But with 2:46 left in the third, Wilberforce scored the winning goal on a deflection.

The game against Fenelon was a close one for two periods. At the end of the second frame the score was deadlocked at 2-2.

Vaters and Saunders were the Minden marksmen, assisting on each other's goal.

Fenelon caught fire in the third, scoring three times while holding the Monarchs at bay to earn the win.

The novice Tri-County playoffs are expected to get under way this week. The schedule wasn't finalized until Sunday.

Meanwhile, the novice B Monarchs competed in a tournament in Haliburton Saturday.

Bantam A's oust Bobcaygeon in five

by Jerry Grozelle

It was down to the wire for the Minden bantam A Monarchs when they played host to the Bobcaygeon Cougars Sunday in Minden. With the playoff series tied at two games apiece, one team would advance and the other would be done for the season.

The Minden boys "did what they had to do," according to coach Dan Mills. They came through in the clutch, defeating the Cougars 6-2 to win the series three games to two.

"Bobcaygeon really gave us a run for our money," Mills admitted. "The last two games were really hard-fought."

The Monarchs took a 1-0 lead less than two minutes into the first period when Dave Raback converted a pass from Tom Bagshaw.

It was obvious that the Cougars weren't about to roll over and play dead when they were down by one goal. With 1:45 left in the first frame, and Bobcaygeon a man short, Del Kypers got a breakaway and made good on the opportunity to tie the game.

Two quick Minden goals in the middle period took some of the wind out of Bobcaygeon's sails. Bagshaw and Raback were the snipers, with Sheamus Donnery and Curtis Fielding drawing an assist each.

Raback scored his third of the night early in the third period for a 4-1 Minden lead. Fielding assisted.

Shane Patrick cut Minden's lead in half with 6:57 left in the third but that was as close as the Cougars would get.

Fielding regained the Monarchs' three-goal advantage with two and a half minutes remaining, unassisted.

Raback potted his fourth of the night into the empty Bobcaygeon net with 14 seconds showing on the clock.

The tough time against Bobcaygeon took its toll on the Monarchs and it showed as they headed into the series against Woodville Thursday.

The Woodville boys took a 1-0 lead in the best-of-five series, downing the Monarchs 6-3 in Minden.

"Our guys came out sleeping," said Minden coach Dan Mills. "They didn't play well together."

In spite of the final score, the game remained close until Woodville pulled in front midway through the third.

Early in the third, Minden remained within striking distance at 4-3.

The visitors took a 1-0 lead in the first and after two, they led 3-1.

Sheamus Donnery scored the first Minden goal, from Darren Mills and Rob Camelon.

Raback cut the Woodville lead to 3-2 on an unassisted effort in the third and Fielding set Raback up for the third marker for the home side.

Darryl Roberts led the Woodville attack with two goals and one assist.

Monarchs' assistant coach Jim Todd said that Woodville and Minden have been "very evenly matched" all season. In three meetings, the Monarchs came out on top twice, with Woodville winning the other. All three games were one-goal wins.

If these two teams go the full five games, the schedule is as follows: Tuesday, February 22 at 7:30 p.m. in Woodville; Thursday, February 24 at 8:00 p.m. in Minden; Friday, February 25 at 9:30 p.m. in Woodville; and Saturday, February 26 at 7:30 p.m. in Minden.

Defense will be the key as Redmen take on Crestwood in first round of playoffs

by Jerry Grozelle

The Fenelon Falls Falcons came on strong, winning two of their last three games in the Kawartha High School Hockey League regular season. The four points Fenelon gained from those two wins lifted the Falcons to first place in the West division, three points ahead of the second place Haliburton Redmen.

Fenelon's performance in its last three games also bounced the Redmen out of third place in the league's overall standings and forced them to settle for fourth overall.

The first round of playoffs for the Redmen starts Wednesday in Haliburton. They will play host to the Crestwood Mustangs at 8:00 p.m. at the Haliburton arena.

Game two of that best-of-three series is slated for 3:30 p.m. at the Kinsmen Covering up: Bobcaygeon netminder Denny Oliver gets some help from two teammates as Minden captain Curtis Fielding cruises out from behind the Cougars' net looking for a rebound. The Monarchs won the game 6-2 and took the series three games to two.

arena in Peterborough. The date and time of a third game, if one is necessary, is undecided at this time.

The Redmen only met the Mustangs once during the regular season. That was back in mid-December in Peterborough.

Falcons pull ahead of Haliburton in final standings, winning two of last three games

The result was a 7-4 win for Haliburton, but Redmen coach Ron Yake said that the game was closer than the score might indicate.

Yake said that Crestwood has one strong line and that his defensive unit will have to keep Crestwood sniper Mark McFadden in check.

McFadden finished in second place in the scoring race with 42 points, just two points behind Kenner's Kris Simpson. McFadden was involved in more than half of Crestwood's 83 goals, setting a record.

"We'll have to contain McFadden," Yake said.

Yake says the key against Crestwood is defense.

"If we can put together a good defense, we'll get our scoring chances," he said.

Yake was reluctant to pick any individuals whose contributions could reflect the outcome of the series against Crestwood. Besides the defensive unit, he said he will be counting on centres Jonathon Bishop and Jackie Morrison to provide some scoring punch.

The Mustangs finished the regular season in fifth spot, just one point behind the Redmen.

If the Redmen get by Crestwood, they will meet the winner of the Kenner-Weldon series in the semi-finals.

Hundreds flock to Haliburton for Winterfest

Snowmobilers enjoy a weekend of fun and competition

by Jerry Grozelle

Haliburton was a hive of activity the weekend of February 12 and 13 with Winterfest.

Highlighting those activities was the radar run for snowmobiles. Sleds ranging from completely stock to super modified took to the quarter mile track set up on Head Lake. They ran flat out to see who could burn up the quarter mile in the fastest time.

Dave Todd of Used Parts Plus in Belleville clocked the fastest time. The radar gun recorded his top speed at a track-eating 120 miles an hour.

Several other riders coaxed more than 100 miles an hour out of their sleds over the two days of the event.

Almost 600 runs in eight classes were clocked over the two days, earning the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association close to $2,400.

Some of the local riders who were among the fastest on the quarter mile were Geoff Bunn, Jeff Warburton, Leigh Wood, Craig Bunn, Jeff Babineau and Steve Stewart.

$1,000 PRIZE

The snowmobile poker run was also a popular event, with hundreds of riders trying to cash in on the $1,000 prize. When the run was over, Larry France was the winner. He picked up a straight for the best poker hand of the day.

A torch-light parade, a huge bonfire and cookout, pancake breakfast, an ice fishing derby, a scavenger hunt and dances at the Haliburton Legion and the PineStone Resort were also among the weekend's attractions.

Prizes were also awarded for the oldest sled and the best customized sled.

The radio controlled sleds, sponsored by Sled Head Signs in Minden also proved to be a popular attraction.

Paul Prentice, who was in charge of the radar run, was pleased with how it turned out.

"Close to a thousand people came out," Prentice said. "It definitely had a positive impact on the community."

Prentice singled out Norm Perrott, Pat Kennedy, Scott Doan and Mike Brysdon as key members of the team who put the radar run together.

"They spent countless hours setting everything up," Prentice said.

The four local snowmobile dealers worked in co-operation to ensure the success of the event. In addition, KICX-FM, Bell Mobility, PineStone Resort and Conference Centre, Haliburton Village, Trucks Plus and the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association were major sponsors of the weekend's activities.

RADAR RUN SERIES

With the tremendous amount of interest generated by the radar run, there is some hope of starting a series called Central Ontario Radar Runs or CORR for short. It would be held in conjunction with the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association.

The intention is to have four runs a year. Prentice suggested that there are two options concerning venues for such a series.

"We could have two runs in Haliburton and two in Minden," Prentice said. "The problem is finding a lake close enough to Minden to set up a track. South Lake is one possibility that has been discussed."

"The other alternative is to find a dry-land track somewhere between Minden and Haliburton."

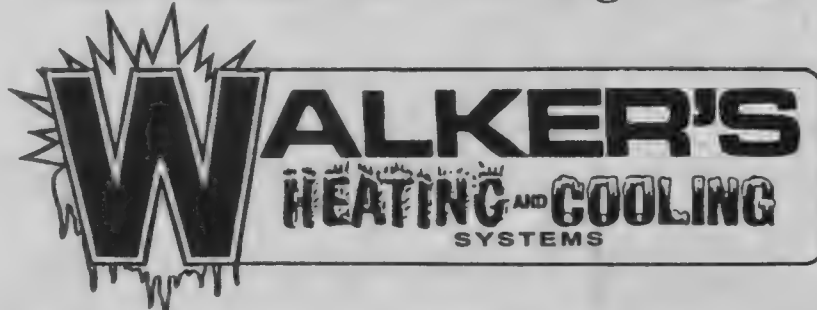

Speed demon: A radar run competitor is just a blur as speeds exceeded 100 miles per hour.

Brian Shaw's hat trick paces Home to 8-2 victory over KDD

Sid Stamp Fuels, Westside Jug City tied for fourth place

by Jerry Grozelle

Scott Nesbitt's hat trick for Hartwick Construction wasn't enough for a win in Minden Men's Recreational Hockey League play on Valentine's Day. Nesbitt was the only Hartwick marksman as the Sid Stamp Fuels squad skated to a 5-3 win.

The Hartwick team held a one-goal lead twice in the first period but by the end of the frame the score was tied at 2-2.

Scott Hamilton assisted on both of Nesbitt's first-period goals.

Glen Hall and John Teljeur were the snipers for the Stamp crew in the opening frame. Ben Manuge and Gary Harrison set up Hall's goal while Hall and Craig Philip drew assists on the Teljeur tally.

Stamp sharpshooters notched three in a row in the second half to take a 5-2 lead. Alec Little scored twice and Hall added his second of the game. Charlie Teljeur and Gord Wood combined to set up both of Little's goals. Philip and Harrison assisted on Hall's.

Nesbitt's third goal was too little, too late. Hamilton and Jerry Campbell assisted.

HOME 8, KDD 2

Home Hardware romped to an 8-2 victory over Kountry Double D in the night's second game.

Home led 3-1 at the half.

Brian Shaw figured in all of the first-period Home Hardware goals, scoring one and helping to set up the other two. Doug Allison and Dave Dollo were the other Home snipers with one apiece. Boomer Stamp got two assists.

The lone first-period goal for KDD was scored by Doug Aldworth, from Bill Moffatt and John Fedeski.

The two teams exchanged goals early in the second, but Home notched four more to skate off with the victory.

Brian Shaw rounded out his hat trick with a pair of goals. Tom Miscio, Trini Elias and Stamp added singles to the winning tally. Stamp, Barry Shaw, Dollo and Allison had two assists apiece while Ritchie Mills and Miscio collected one helper each.

Scott Danilko scored the lone second-half goal for KDD, from Fedeski and Corey Walker.

WESTSIDE
10, TIMES 1

Westside Jug City romped to a 10-1 victory over The Times in the night's late game.

Westside built up a 6-0 lead before The Times got on the scoreboard in the second period to ruin Duane Lennie's shutout bid in the Jug City net.

Eldon Bull led the Westside assault with a hat trick and a pair of assists. Gary Nelson and Dave Pettes added two goals and one assist each. Daryl Ward contributed a goal and four assists to the winning cause. Tom Haley had a goal and two assists while Paul Mayo notched one goal and an assist. Mike Keany helped set up four Jug City goals and Greg Metcalfe got one assist.

Paul Walker's unassisted goal was the only one for The Times.

"For the Do it Yourself or Contractor"

Nora Snyder is the new owner of Minden House Bed and Breakfast.

New owner plants roots at Minden House

Nora Snyder has done what many Highlands cottage owners dream about doing. She has made the leap from "the city", in this case Guelph, to a permanent home in Minden.

Nora's love for the area can be traced back to her childhood. Her father was a director of Kilcoo Camp on Gull Lake and in 1948 he purchased Camp Comack on Lake St. Nora, near Dorset. She was an active visitor and participant at the camps and through the years developed a desire to make this part of Ontario her permanent home.

While it may sound easy to do, uprooting one's life and starting all over again involves much more than just making the decision.

As Nora discovered, there is the little matter of sustaining oneself on a day to day basis.

Last summer she began to seriously explore the idea and that is when she met Becky Durkin an agent at the Van Lieshout Real Estate office in Haliburton. Together they began to examine the possibilities and on one of those visits they dropped in at the Minden House Bed and Breakfast on Gull River.

"As soon as I saw the house, I loved it," Nora says. "There was a certain feeling about the place, the history, the location, the river flowing by the front door. I knew this was the place for me." She notes that the village of Minden is fortunate to be located in such a beautiful setting. "Seeing the house with the mist rising off the river was enough to convince me that this was to be my new home."

That was in August and since then she has been easing into the house, re-decorating and preparing to welcome the public. She has entertained guests through the winter, but the sled dog derby weekend was the "official" start for the new business.

And while it is now open, the re-decorating continues in anticipation of the busy summer season ahead. Each of the four guest rooms in the main house is being redone, along with the housekeeping cottages on the adjacent property. Michael Hughes is assisting with the work which involves the winterizing of two of the cabins and the redecorating of the other three.

Nora also has her eye on the small barn at the back of the property. It was featured on the cover of last year's Minden and Area directory. She thinks it has a great deal of potential and might make an ideal studio for herself or guests.

Streak: Bantam B Monarchs just keep on winning in round-robin playoff action

by Jerry Grozelle

The march to Tri-County hockey supremacy continues for the Minden bantam B Monarchs. They have added two more wins to their record in round-robin playoff action.

Mariposa was doubled 4-2 at the Oakwood arena on February 14 for the third win in as many playoff games for the Minden squad.

Adam Carpenter got things rolling for the Monarchs, scoring an unassisted goal 27 seconds after the opening faceoff.

Ian Clements added a second Minden marker with 3:42 left in the first period for a 2-0 lead going into the second. Nathan Stephenson and Sean Irvine assisted.

Clements scored his second goal of the game at the 8:59 mark, from Irvine and Matthew Hamilton to put the visiting Monarchs in front 3-0.

Mariposa got on the scoreboard with 38 seconds left in the middle frame. Jeff Merrick was the sniper with an unassisted effort.

The Monarchs struck again early in the third with Carpenter potting his second of the contest. Irvine and Andy Madill assisted.

Mariposa got one more with 9:12 remaining in the game but that's as close as the home side would get.

The next game for the Monarchs was on home ice last Tuesday evening, with Wilberforce providing the opposition.

The first period was half a minute from being over when Jamie Henderson and George Godfrey combined to set up Carpenter for a 1-0

Minden lead.

Wilberforce stormed back early in the second, notching two goals before the period was two minutes old to temporarily take over the lead.

Just 13 seconds after Wilberforce's second goal, the score was tied by Henderson. Godfrey and Carpenter assisted on that one.

Fifty seconds after that, the Monarchs were back in front, when Jason Kasepчук scored, from Madill and Clements.

Wilberforce came back once again, getting the equalizer before the second period ended.

The third period belonged exclusively to Minden as far as scoring went.

Carpenter scored what proved to be the game winner at the 7:19 mark of the 15-minute period with a set-up from Godfrey.

Clements added an insurance goal with 2:40 left in the game, from Kasepчук.

The Minden boys played back in Wilberforce yesterday. Their next home game is slated for Saturday, February 26 at 6 p.m.

BITING COLD!

Bitter temperatures cause concern for outdoor pets

Joan E. Grant, D. V. M.

With record-breaking low temperatures this winter, it is not surprising that veterinarians have had to treat dogs with hypothermia. Some of these dogs were admitted in convulsions, with rectal temperatures so low they did not even register on a thermometer (i.e. less than 94 degrees Fahrenheit).

These poor dogs had a few things in common. Most were found to be thin, have short-haired coats (but not all), be on a diet of poor quality kibble, fed and offered water only once daily, have internal parasites (worms), and were inadequately housed (houses poorly bedded, with little or no insulation).

It is very sad to think about those dogs that we never see that are suffering and dying mainly because of owner-ignorance, but sometimes from outright neglect.

Here are a few tips to help your outdoor dog through the winter:

1) Good nutrition is extremely important. Dogs burn a lot of calories just trying to keep themselves warm. Many hounds are thin going into the winter (especially if they have been hunting in the fall, or if they have worms) so they do not have a good fat layer to draw on for insulation and as an energy reserve.

In winter, these dogs require at least 2-3 times more food than they normally require in moderate weather, in spite of the fact that they are less active and tied up most of the time. Not only do they need to eat more food, but a high quality food is essential to provide readily digestible energy with appropriate protein levels, fat levels, etc. Pregnant and growing dogs obviously have special requirements over and above maintaining body temperature and weight.

Ideally, outdoor dogs should be fed 2-3 times daily during the winter, with fresh water offered at the same time. Soaking kibble in warm water or meat broth increases palatability and fluid intake, but is not essential. Remember even two dogs of the same age, size, and breed, do not necessarily require the same amount of food. The best guideline for feeding is careful observation of your dog's appearance and behaviour.

The weight of long-haired dogs can be deceiving and they should be felt rather than assessed visually. Run your hand along the back and over the rib cage, feeling the skin rather than the hair. You should not be able to feel any boney prominences or jutting ribs.

2) Your dog will need a well-insulated and well-bedded house in order to survive the comes damp.

If you are interested in plans for the ideally insulated dog house, pamphlets published by the Ontario Humane Society are available by contacting this address: Ontario Humane Society, 16640 Yonge St., Newmarket, Ontario, N3Y 4V8, or phone Dr. Grant at 286-1058 for more information.

3) Good physical health is an obvious necessity for an outdoor dog. Unfortunately, many dogs endure winter while being heavily parasitized with worms, which is very stressful for them. Fresh stool samples should be checked by a veterinarian regularly (microscopic examination to identify specific worm eggs), at least during the spring and fall, especially from dogs with a known history of worms, those that have been hunting, those with diarrhea and/or weight loss, and all puppies.

A lot of people do not realize that many over-the-counter worm medicines are only effective against roundworms (a very common problems in pups, but not in adult dogs) but they do not kill whipworms, tapeworms, and hookworms. These internal parasites are very common in hounds and some can cause diarrhea, anemia, weight loss, poor coat, etc.

Once a stool sample has been examined microscopically and specific worm eggs are identified, the appropriate medication(s) can be dispensed and recommendations made regarding cleaning up stools, changing location of dog house to prevent re-infection, follow-up stool examination, etc.

Why waste money on worm medicine that may not kill the particular worm that you dog has?

4) Another point to remember is that dogs, like people, go through the aging process and as they become more geriatric, they are less able to cope with cold winters. Arthritis and hip-dysplasia make it more difficult for dogs to curl up in a tight ball to preserve body heat and they become stiff and uncomfortable.

Also, older dogs often need to drink more water, which is difficult to do when their water bowls are frozen. Heart and circulatory problems can also make life difficult for an old dog living outdoors. A veterinarian can recommend special foods and medications for arthritis, etc., but the bottom line is; if your dog is showing signs of aging (limping, stiffness, weight loss, excessive thirst, shivering, etc.) it should not be forced to live outdoors in the winter.

It is my hope that these tips will help you to help those who cannot fend for themselves and rely on you for their existence.

Pets need special care when the mercury drops to extremes winter comfortably. Straw is not enough. It can also be very irritating to the skin and frequently causes facial and neck abscesses following ingestion.

The position of your dog house should not be the same in winter as it is in the summer, for obvious reasons. In the summer, shade should be provided, whereas in the winter the dogs need shelter from the prevailing wind (i.e. the house should be placed next to a building), with the opening facing south where sunshine can help to warm things up. A burlap flap over the opening will also help.

The bedding (wood shavings, blanket, comforter, etc.) should be thick and checked regularly and changed if it be-

Social Action Committee survey examines employment options

What happens when you want to work but can't find a job?

There are far too many people in this dilemma. Whether a person is just out of high school, is a stay-at-home parent, was laid off, or whatever, finding another job in today's world is not easy.

As well as the causes of unemployment, though, it is important to remember the results. Frustration, anger and bitterness are common, and it's easy to understand how they come about. The Haliburton County Social Action Committee knows it can't do much about the economy by itself, but also knows it must look at the unemployment issue. It's easy to see that when unemployment goes up, so do social problems and demands for different kinds of services.

In a unique partnership with many local organizations, the Social Action Committee is co-ordinating a project to examine the transitional support services for the unemployed — those things which can help people find work.

Karen Richardson and Ernie Demuth are currently finding information and interviewing people to find out just what services are available here. They know that unemployed people may need several things — some kind of assessment to find out what skills, abilities and interests they have, guidance or counseling so they know what options are available, and possibly some education and training. Some people need very little of these support services, but others may need more. When Richardson and Demuth produce their report in March, it will identify what services are available here, what gaps there may be and how urgent it is to fix those holes.

Project supporters will have a good basis for planning, and those who are unemployed can find out about the services available and be ready for an upturn in the economy.

For information, leave a message for Richardson at 457-1316.

Direct deposit limits risks

For some time now, the Direct Deposit method of payment has been available to recipients of Income Security, Canada Pension, War Veterans Allowance, Canada Pension Commission, and International Agreements.

With Direct Deposit the government of Canada will deposit cheques directly into the account of choice, at any bank, credit union, trust company, or other financial institution located in Canada. With this arrangement there is no risk of your payment being lost, stolen, or damaged.

For further information and to obtain an application contact your nearest Information Centre in Haliburton or Minden.

Consumer society must learn to accept less

A powerful frugality movement to make less and consume less is growing in North America. "Your Money or Your Life" by Joe Dominguez and Vicki Robin (Viking/Penguin 1992) tells us how it can be done and what the benefits are.

To some, making do on less may seem retrogressive, but studies indicate that 75 percent of American workers between 25-49 would like to see a return to a simpler society with less emphasis on material wealth.

Vicki Robin is president of the New Road Map Foundation (Box 15981, Seattle, WA 98115) which is trying to chart new paths to frugal living. Recently it published a pamphlet: "All-Consuming Passion: Waking Up From The American Dream," which is filled with a series of stunning statistics that point to the contradictions in our beliefs and actions. Here are some of the numbers based on American studies.

Having more does not equate with greater happiness. In spite of a 50 percent increase in personal income between 1957 and 1991, the percentage of people who are "very happy" did not change.

In 1978, 41 percent of 18 to 29 year olds thought they had a good chance of achieving "the good life" but by 1993, only 21 percent thought so.

People today are, on average, 450 percent richer than in 1900. Per capita consumption in the past 20 years rose by 45 percent while the quality of life, as measured by the Index of Social Health, decreased by 51 percent.

Parents spend 40 percent less time with their children than they did in 1965. In part that reflects the fact that employed people spend 163 hours more per year on the job than they did in 1969. Sixty-nine percent of Americans would like to "slow down and live a more relaxed life" while only 19 percent would like a "more exciting, faster paced life".

The percentage of college freshmen who thought it is essential to be well off financially was 44 percent in 1967 and 76 percent in 1987. In contrast, in 1967, 83 percent of college freshmen thought it was essential to develop a philosophy of life while in 1987, only 39 percent did.

When we buy more things, we need more space to keep them. Median size of newly built houses rose from 1,100 sq. ft. in 1949, to 1,385 in 1970, to 2,060 in 1993.

Residential space per person increased from 312 sq. ft. in 1950 to 742 in 1993.

Ten million Americans own two or more homes; at least 300,000 are homeless.

Reflections

by David Suzuki

Teenagers are exposed to 360,000 advertisements by the time they graduate from high school. The average American spends one entire year of his or her life watching TV commercials. As a consequence, 93 percent of teenage girls report store-hopping as their favourite activity.

People can choose from over 25,000 supermarket items, 200 kinds of cereal, 11,092 magazines. Americans spend about six hours a week shopping and 40 minutes a week playing with their children!

Increased consumption results from greater product variety and disposability.

In 1981, two-thirds to three-quarters of houseware purchases were to replace items that had worn out. By 1987, less than one-half were replacements. Each year, 180 million gallons of motor oil, the equivalent of 16 Exxon Valdez spills, are sent to landfills or poured down drains.

In 1989, Americans drank an average of 186 quarts of soft drinks and 149 quarts of tap-water. It takes 2,200 calories of energy to produce a 12 ounce can of diet soda which provides less than one calorie of food energy.

North Americans have a disproportionate impact on the planet. Americans make up five percent of the world's population but use 30 percent of the world's resources and 25 percent of the fossil fuel consumed annually.

The average American consumes as much energy as is used by three Japanese, six Mexicans, 14 Chinese, 38 Indians, 168 Bangladeshis or 531 Ethiopians.

Eight percent of all people on earth own a car; 89 percent of all American households own one or more cars.

Since 1940, Americans alone have used up as large a share of the Earth's mineral resources as all previous generations of humans put together.

A person in the U.S. causes 100 times more damage to the global environment than a person in a poor country.

In the last 200 years, the U.S. has lost 50 percent of its wetlands, 90 percent of its north-western old-growth forests, 99 percent of its tall-grass prairie while up to 490 species of native plants and animals are extinct and another 9,000 are at risk.

Every day, nine square miles of U.S. rural land are turned over to development. Each year, 1.3 million acres are black-topped while one million acres of crop-land are lost to erosion.

In 1990, 78 percent of Americans believed a "major national effort" was needed to improve the environment.

The pamphlet provides a fascinating snapshot into a consumer society which has not delivered greater leisure and happiness. What people need are genuine choices that provide a high quality of life on less consumption.

Stanhope dumps get passing grade

by Jerry Grozelle

Jamie Gourley of the consulting firm Oliver, Mangione and Associates appeared before Stanhope Council to fill them in about the township's three landfill sites.

The firm has been monitoring the three sites to determine the effect on the surrounding groundwater conditions and predict the useful life of the sites.

Twenty-three groundwater monitoring sites have been set up in and around the Hawk

Lake dump to determine the amount of leachate contaminants that are moving southwest with the natural groundwater flow as well as those that may be getting into a small stream that skirts the perimeter of the site.

That creek runs into the Kennisis River.

Gourley told council that tests have determined that the natural content of metals such as aluminum, iron and manganese in the groundwater is high. The natural rock and silt conditions at the site have the effect of slowing the movement of pollutants, giving the water table time to dilute them.

"The bottom line is to see how fast things are progressing," Gourley said.

He recommended that

11 of the monitoring sites be cut back to being checked once a year instead of twice, thereby saving the township about $1,000. However, he would like to set up two additional stations on the Kennisis River above and below where the stream runs in. That would cost about $750 per year for the new sampling sites.

Gourley said that at the current rate, the Hawk Lake dump has about six years of useful life left. His calculations didn't take into account council's recent decision to prohibit the dumping of building materials and brush or the introduction of recycling to the township, both of which can extend the life of the site.

Better compaction of the garbage and lighter application of cover material would also help, he pointed out.

The consultant's calculations show the Maple Lake dump to have about 12 years left and the Pine Springs site to be useful for another 18 to 20 years.

ATTENTION VOLUNTEERS

In recognition of your contribution to this year's Minden Sled Dog Derby, the organizing committee is providing a free "I helped make it happen" baseball cap.

Many of the volunteers received their caps Sunday of the event, however, a number were missed.

If you were a volunteer who assisted with the tenth annual Minden Sled Dog Derby, and you did not receive your hat, please register by Monday, February 28th at the Northern Lights office, 51 Main Street, Minden.

Seeing all the sights on a whirlwind tour of London

Dav fra Danmark! Once again, greetings from the nice rainy country of Denmark. It's been a while since I last wrote, so I guess that lots has been happening there just as it has over here.

I survived Christmas and, in fact, had a really good time. Everything we did was quite exciting, and I received many nice gifts. My host families were really nice about giving me things I would remember forever, and an H.C. Anderson fairytale book (in English). In case anyone doesn't know, H.C. Anderson is from Denmark and is very famous here.

New Years was fun. I went out with my family for dinner to friends and we all watched the Queen give her traditional New Year's speech (98 per cent of Danes see the same speech). Merete, a friend from my class, had invited me out to a party with her, so I headed out there around 10 p.m. and celebrated "Big Ben" in London ringing with about 40 Danes.

On January 3, I headed over to England on a large ferry to visit my family. It is actually my grandmother's cousins but it makes them my fifth and sixth cousins. Anyway, I took the 20-hour ferry ride and actually met a girl from Canada on the way.

The next three weeks were both relaxing and exciting. I took the ferry from Esbjerg, Denmark, over the North Sea to Harwich, England. I was met in Harwich by my fourth cousin, Peter, and driven to Woodbridge where I lived for the next three weeks.

Alastair, a cousin of mine, goes to the University of North London and had January off. Luckily for me, he got to borrow his father's car and took me around to many towns in the surrounding area to show me English culture, our family history and his favourite places.

During the second week, Alastair also took me to London. I had one day to do everything that a tourist does in a week! We went and saw Buckingham Palace, St. James Park, Trafalgar Square, the National Art Gallery, 10 Downing St., Westminster Abbey, the Houses of Parliament, Tower of London, the Tower Bridge, Big Ben, Picadilly Circus, Oxford St., Covent Garden, Harrods, St. Paul's Cathedral, Clarence House, House Guards Parade, and the world's largest toy store.

That certainly was a very full day! My feet were absolutely killing me by the time we got to dinner, even though we'd taken the underground tube for much of the day. Enjoying nice "Canadian" fajitas, I discussed what we'd done all day with my cousin and realized how much history England has compared to Canada's 126 years. Buildings are just so old, massive and beautiful it's somewhat overwhelming to go around so quickly and take it all in. Talking it over helped and was very relaxing.

Friday I went to a Rotary meeting in Woodbridge because I am with Rotary over here and it's also interesting to see how other clubs work.

I also got to my great-grandparents burial site to see where they are, where they were married, and where my great, great-grandparents are buried. That was quite incredible to actually be there looking at something I never dreamed I'd see. It was sort of like filling a hole in my family knowledge.

Once again in the next week I travelled; this time to Aylesbury to visit a first cousin. She's over from Canada to work for three months and so we got together before I went to London again to shop and see "Miss Saigon" in a large, old English theatre. I got good orchestra seats for only $16.

For the rest of the week, I travelled around and came home again Saturday, January 22. After three weeks away, it was somewhat difficult to jump back into Danish, but after only a few hours it was like I'd never been gone.

In all, the trip was really good but I will say I was glad to come back and see everyone here again. I received such a warm welcome back that I truly felt at home. Everyone was so interested in what I did and excited to see my photos. Considering we were told at language school that Danes are somewhat stand-offish, I certainly feel warmly enclosed in a caring group of people.

Members to attend district meeting

Thirteen members of Minden Women's Institute met at the Library/Cultural Centre for their meeting on February 16 with Jean Lacey, president, welcoming.

The usual reports were given followed by the reading of a resolution and members may send letters to the Minister of Environment regarding disposal of used car tires for partial fuel at St. Mary's cement kiln.

Irene Moore reported sending 14 cards since the January meeting and collections were taken for the card fund and pennies for friendship.

District Director Jeanne Sears and alternate Mary Wilson District President and Jean Lacey District Vice President will attend the board meeting at Baddow Centre on Monday, February 21.

Courtesy of Mary Wilson we saw dusting mitts and a plastic needlepoint article which we will work on at the next meeting. Some of these articles may be sold at our summer bake sales.

Several jokes were given by Mary Wilson and Bette Herlihey and a verse read by Maud Coulter.

The next meeting will be held March 16 and ladies are requested to try to "Wear the Green" so close to St Patrick's Day. The meeting will be held at the usual place at 2 p.m. and we welcome all newcomers.

Following the adjournment the little draw was won by Nancy Gayton and everyone enjoyed the snacks and tea or coffee and a nice chat.

Jeanne Sears, P.R.O.

School board gets some credit for unemployment

Editor:

Brian Mulroney and Bob Rae should not receive all the credit for the thirty percent unemployment in Haliburton County. Deserving part of this credit is the county school board.

If the contract for the Archie Stouffer school had included about a thousand dollar a day penalty, to be imposed after September 15, the project would perhaps have been finished on time. If an extra shift including labour on Saturdays had been undertaken, there would have been no necessity to explain to the public about having to remove the old insulation and gyprock because some of the people among the thirty percent unemployed would have been glad to be hired for this work. The project could have been completed about four months earlier, therefore eliminating a great deal of confusion when school opened, thus a saving of several thousand dollars to the tax payers.

When a lad at home and I did a job that displeased my father, he explained to me, "In the future if a job is required that you know nothing about, leave it to someone who is more knowledgeable." It's a pity more people do not heed these words of wisdom.

GUIDES: 120,000 girls can't be wrong

Every day is Thinking Day in Guiding. February 22, however is a particularly nostalgic time for members to reflect on the values of Guiding in Canada and around the world and celebrate the birthday of Lady Olave Baden-Powell, the late World Chief Commissioner and wife of Sir Robert Baden-Powell, founder of Scouting.

In an odd, but touching twist, this husband and wife team, founders of the two largest youth organizations in the world, were born on the same day.

Since 1926, their birthday has been celebrated around the world as Thinking Day in which members focus their thoughts and actions on promotion and preservation of world peace and understanding.

Guiding is more relevant in today's competitive world than ever before. "Girls in the 1990's are very much in-tune with what is going on in the world," notes Maureen Laurence, Provincial Commissioner, Girl Guides of Canada, Ontario Council. "They know all about environmental problems, they are aware of the recession and the effects it has on their families, they know about AIDS. In the face of all this, they need to feel strong, to have a sense of control over their destiny."

The world's largest all-female organization has 120,000 members in Ontario. In groups across the province, girls from all cultural backgrounds gather once a week to talk about their lives, their world, and to discover new skills. "The togetherness and team spirit developed in Girl Guides can give one the confidence needed to face life's adventures," says Sheila Copps, Deputy Leader of the Liberal Party of Canada and former Girl Guide.

For more than 80 years, Guiding in Canada has provided girls and women with a fundamental program that encourages and implores its members to reach new horizons. They encourage each other to be the best they can be, to believe in their own potential, to give anything from poetry to rock climbing a try.

Girl Guides teaches girls that there are very few things that a girl can't do. It is a lesson that many of the Guides who have gone on to excel in their chosen profession have taken to heart.

First Minden Brownies

First Minden Brownies are a very active unit who have had their program enriched by some very special guests and activities. Jim Bleakley captured our attention while stressing fire safety and we all left knowing the importance of fire alarms, fire drills, and how to prevent fires. Chris Parish and Dave Nimigon made our tour of the ambulance base amusing and less frightening, as they talked to us about simple first aid and when and how to call an ambulance. Good nutrition is very important and we had the pleasure of having Marg Graham visit us. While playing games with us, she stressed the importance of eating properly and we went on an imaginary picnic in January.

Gabriel will be sharing about life in Germany in the upcoming weeks. Winter camp with our unit at Camp Adelaide is always the highlight of February and we can hardly contain our excitement as the weekend draws near.

Yuvadee Feltham was a school teacher in a village in Thailand until recently. Through dance, song, games, slides and crafts, we had an enjoyable journey to Thailand with her and her husband, Gerry. The girls were fascinated by the fact that the Thai children weren't wearing shoes, and the school children wore a uniform. In Thailand, all girls must belong to the Girl Guides and all boys must join the Boy Scouts.

First Minden Guides

Guiding in Central Area (the region East to Coburg, West to Pickering, and North as far as Haliburton County) has become synonymous with service.

Help us to help others less fortunate. We collect the following items. With your help we can collect even more. The more we collect, the more people we help.

Heinz Baby Food labels - (food, juices, or cereals) In support of Sick Children's Hospital. Drop off: Sear, and D & S Discount.

Used postage stamps - (ensure 1/4 inch border around stamp) In support of Canine Vision. Drop off: D & S Discount.

Pennies - In support of St. Paul's Food Cupboard. We have collected over $112.00 since September. Drop off: D & S Discount.

Pop tabs - In support of wheel chair purchases. Pop tabs are sold to Alcan. Drop off: BJ Subs, and D & S Discount.

Tomato Soup labels - In support of the Evangelical School for the Deaf in Puerto Rico. It's a non-denominational school staffed by Canadians. Drop off: D & S Discount.

Special thanks to Dave Porter for allowing us a drop off at D & S Discount. Also sincere gratitude to the seniors for their overwhelming contribution to our service projects.

Guiding teaches self confidence

Maureen McCullaugh was awarded a Girl Guide scholarship to attend university in Toulouse, France.

Guiding teaches girls self-confidence, self-respect, and individuality - an excellent basis for leadership.

Maureen McCullaugh, daughter of Brownie leader

Dianne McCullaugh, has been in Guiding all her life, learning skills which have encouraged her to have a strong sense of achievement. She is currently in her third year of university in Toulouse, France, for which she was granted a Girl Guide scholarship. She is also a Brownie leader with the Girl Guides of France.

Maureen has been on international Girl Guide trips to Mexico City and England.

Among her many awards are her All Round Cord, Canada Cord, Duke of Edinburgh - Bronze. Maureen is such an encouraging member of our Guiding community. Through Maureen we encourage all other Girl Guides to reach out for those opportunities.

Guides aged 14 and older have an opportunity to travel around the world working on community projects in such countries as Mexico, India, New Zealand, Japan, and Iceland. The Ontario Council of Girl Guides assists in funding travel costs for its members.

Guides, Pathfinders, Senior branches

Guiding has four main programs designed to develop the creative, intellectual and physical capabilities of members.

Camping and Outdoors gives girls a taste of adventure, teaching them about the environment and new physical skills.

Life Skills deals with nutrition, arts, technologies, careers, coping with change, taking responsibility, and physical and emotional well-being.

World stresses knowledge of global concerns, fosters international friendships and includes travel opportunities.

Community Service involves activities that promote pride in one's heritage and respect for the heritage of others as well as working with various groups within our society.

Girl Guides begin as young as 5 year old Sparks who participate in a program of play, singing, outdoor fun and creative activities. In Brownies, ages 6 to 9, girls begin camping, hiking, and earning badges. Guides, 9 to 12, enjoy camping adventures and community services, as well as activities that promote leadership, initiative, and self-confidence. Pathfinders, 12 to 15, learn responsibility and decision making by planning such activities as outdoor expeditions, service projects, and personal challenges. Rangers, Cadets, and Junior

Leaders, 15 to 18, practice leadership by working with younger groups and initiate their own explorations into the wider community.

Guiding is a lot of fun - both for girls and leaders.

For information about joining any of these groups call Highland District Commissioner Faith Aggett, 286-1831.

Second Minden Brownies

We do many fun things at Brownies.

This past Christmas we wove place-mats which were presented with the Christmas dinners delivered by the Meals On Wheels. The girls were quite proud of their handiwork.

On February 27 we will be hosting a Brownie Revel in Minden. All the Brownies from the County are invited to attend.

Activities planned for the afternoon include skating, crazy carpeting, horse-drawn wagon rides, crafts, and refreshments. This is an excellent opportunity for the Brownies in different companies to meet each other.

Again this year we will have our annual Minden Litter Chase with the First Minden Brownies. It is planned for Saturday, May 14. Last year we collected a pick-up truck full of garbage. Look for us out on the streets.

Greetings are extended to Meaghan Obee who is presently on a Rotary Exchange in Denmark. She has been in contact with the Danish Guiding association and has shared with them her Canada Cord and pictures and tales of Guiding in Canada.

Mary Busby, a 90 year old resident of Hyland Crest attributes her longevity to "her annual outdoor experiences with the Girl Guides." Naomi Stephenson-Aggett (Pathfinder), Bobbi Sutton (Girl Guide), and Alyssa Belcher (Brownie) presented Mary with a flower bouquet for Valentine's Day and wished her a happy upcoming Thinking Day. Ms. Busby gave over 40 years of service as a Guide leader.

Minden Sparks a bubbly bunch

Our Spark unit consists of eight bubbly young girls and our motto is "I promise to share and be a friend."

At one meeting, Nurse Judy Toye visited us and discussed how to treat a cut and the importance of cleanliness. The girls made miniature first aid kits from film canisters.

We will also have, amongst other visitors, Brian Moore from the Minden Lions Club. Mr. Moore raises funds for Sleeping Children Around The World which supplies bed kits to needy children in under-developed countries and developing countries.

The Sparks will be saving pennies for the remainder of February to purchase one of the bed kits.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all the parents, our visitors, and Susan Carr, our junior leader, for making our First Minden Sparks a success.

White Cane Week helps raise awareness

Minden Reeve Bern Berry recently helped launch White Cane Week, which ran from February 7 to 13.

Berry and CNIB representative Larry Sadler met at the municipal offices to discuss some of the details of this awareness campaign. Sadler also presented the reeve with a crocus to mark the beginning of the CNIB's fundraising sales campaign.

The CNIB is a non-profit, voluntary agency established in 1918. It offers quality rehabilitation services to blind and visually impaired people through a network of over 60 centres.

Sadler said there are currently 55 clients in Haliburton County who take advantage of the assistance provided by the CNIB. Sadler said that on average, the CNIB reaches only about 15 per cent of the people it might serve. Therefore the potential number of clients in the county could be much higher.

White Cane Week is a national network of special events, hands-on demonstrations, open houses, tours, speakers, films and activities designed to raise awareness. The program reflects the changing situation of blind and visually impaired people.

In its early years, White Cane Week was used to demonstrate the concern for rehabilitation, blindness prevention and advocacy. In more recent years, events have begun to emphasize the capabilities of blind and visually impaired people. The aim is to draw blind and sighted Canadians closer together in order that they may be able to support one another.

FACTS:

More than half a million Canadians have a vision-related disability.

Nine out of 10 people considered blind do have some useful vision.

Visually impaired and deaf-blind people are employed in over 1,000 occupations.

Blind people use words like "look", "see" and "colour" in their everyday language.

A blind person's hearing is not automatically better than anyone else's. It is only practice that tends to enhance a blind person's listening skills.

One in eight Canadian seniors has a visual impairment.

The primary cause of vision loss is aging.

Guide dogs do not possess any unusual powers, but are highly-intelligent animals specifically trained to react to commands by the owner.

Ninety percent of all eye injuries are preventable.

THE MINDEN FIRE DEPARTMENT would like to express their sincere appreciation to the DYSART FIRE DEPARTMENT and STANHOPE FIRE DEPARTMENT the Minden O.P.P. and the Haliburton County Ambulance Service for their recent co-operation and assistance at the structural fire on February 14, 1994.

Mercury climbs in fundraising thermometer

Saturday, this is the start of another real winter week. Today started out a little more active than usual. We had two tables of euchre in the auditorium. Sue Crego, a young lady who is doing volunteer duties Fridays and Saturdays, managed the games. The morning passed pleasantly. The remainder of the day was quiet.

Sunday was a little warmer although it snowed gently most of the day. We enjoyed and sincerely thank Estella Burch for reading more of the Book of Dinner Herbs. About 4 o'clock Terry and Norma phoned to say they were taking me out for dinner, so I missed chapel service with Rev. John Burgess and Ellen Rawlings, who played the organ. Thank you John and Ellen.

Monday the discoveries clothing people were here most of the day so very little else was done as far as residents' activities were concerned. In the evening the Salvation Army from Fenelon Falls came for a hymn sing-a-long.

Tuesday morning chapel service was conducted by Pastor Fast. Pastor Fast plays the accompaniment for the hymns on his guitar. Our sincere thanks. In the evening, Pearl Cowen helped us play cards until bed time snack. Thank you Pearl.

Wednesday morning there was fitness in the auditorium with Diane and there was a video in the auditorium in the afternoon.

Thursday was the tea party. The ladies from Minden People's Bible Church provided a delicious tea. They began with a program of hymn singing and readings on love. Beth Carol sang several hymns, Mrs. Fast also sang a couple of hymns. Marion Fisher read several poems about different kinds of love. The ladies who came were Lenore Prentice, June Mason, Marion Fisher, Pat Scott, Dorothy Walker, Sue Robertson, and Carol Jones. After the blessing we enjoyed the delicious tea and thank the ladies immensely.

Kathy Woods called Bingo for us in the evening. Thanks Kathy for calling Bingo and for the Valentines.

Friday was Ruby Lewis' birthday. We wish her a Happy Birthday. It was also Marjory Schuyler's birthday. Happy Birthday Marjory.

Friday evening was our annual dinner and it was followed by an auction sale.

We had the pleasure of delightful singing and guitar playing by Gordon Kidd between the dinner and the auction. Thank you Gord.

The auditorium was decorated with red and white lanterns and large plastic heart-shaped balloons. The tables were beautifully arranged with white cloths, red placemats, and red serviettes. These were all made by the residents. The tables were arranged and set up by Doris Robertson and Linda Fry. The delicious dinner was prepared and served by the dietary staff under the direction of Llyn Shirley.

Gary McKnight, Administrator, started the evening by welcoming the guests, who were Jim McMahon, County Warden, and George Simmons, Chairman, Committee of Management. The auction was under the management of Doris Robertson (auctioneer), Muriel Harrington, Gary McKnight, and Peter Fairey.

Our thanks to everyone who contributed articles for sale and to all those who so heartily and quickly made their bids. We sincerely thank them. Over all it was a very pleasant and successful evening. $833.50 was raised. This will surely shove our thermometer even higher.

NEW LEGISLATION

Criminal Harassment (Anti-Stalking Law)

"Criminal Harassment" the so-called anti-stalking provision, which is new legislation, is intended to deal with situations where a person is subjected to harassing behavior, for example, by a former spouse or by a rejected and obsessive admirer.

We are only beginning to understand the terror of this type of abuse.

Section 264 (2) of the criminal code states;

Prohibited conduct:

- (a) repeatedly following from place to place the other person or anyone known to them;
- (b) repeatedly communicating with, either directly or indirectly, the other person or anyone known to them;
- (c) besetting or watching the dwelling-house, or place where the other person, or anyone known to them, resides, works, carries on business or happens to be; or
- (d) engaging in threatening conduct directed at the other person or any member of their family.

Watching the Olympic Hockey Games on T.V. is of special interest to Audrey Northey of Minden as her nephew Robert Schistad, originally from Wingham, Ontario is in goal for the Norwegian hockey team. Audrey's sister Lois is presently in Lillehammer attending the Olympic Games.

Winners at Club 35 euchre games on February 14 included Norm Lee with most lone hands, Helen Lee and Ray Brown high lady and man and others were Betty Mathews, Harry Randell and Verna Sawyer. The 50-50 draw went to Doreen Lewis. The next pot luck supper will be held February 25 and the next wheels to meals dinner March 1.

The official opening of the expansion to the lounge at The Terrace, funded by the Ministry of Health and Ministry of Community and Social Services Long Term Care Division in co-operation with the Ministry of Housing, was held Wednesday, February 16 with Jerry Rome giving the welcome. Others present included Christine Maltman of the Ministry of Housing and Jim Hopkins, Jim Hicks, Robert Beeney, Muriel Mark, Marion Fisher, Ted Anthon, Barbara Sisson, Rev. Peter Walford-Davis and regrets sent by Dennis Ferenc of Long Term Care. Many of the residents of The Terrace were also present and enjoyed the refreshments and meeting new members on the board. They really appreciate this addition to the Terrace and it is much used for various events such as euchre, cribbage, group meetings, dinner parties and family gatherings as well as movies on T.V. Really a great addition to our very pleasant surroundings.

Mr and Mrs Frank Fisher and June and Wilfred Mason enjoyed a wonderful turkey dinner at noon, followed by a beautiful sleigh ride behind Wes Sisson's Belgian horses through sugar bush trails. The ride and delicious meals were courtesy of Wes and Dean Sisson.

Sincere sympathy to the families and friends of the late Iva May Raby, Elma Morrison and Kay Barnum whose funerals were held recently.

Sorry about the mistake Alice and Lloyd - we should have congratulated you on your sixty-second wedding anniversary.

Legion 636 welcome all every Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. for their euchre games. The ladies of the group put a quilt together on February 15 and the next gathering of this Seniors group will be March 1 at 10:30 a.m. to set up their work for quilting.

Harold and Georgina Parkes visited Peterborough last weekend to help daughter Suzanne and granddaughter Samantha celebrate their birthdays and all the family was there.

Some people on the sick list this week are Janice Shaw, Eric Stearnes, Bill Wilson and Edith Brottain. Good wishes to all of you and anyone else we missed.

Bradley Robinson from Toronto had a pleasant weekend visit with his mother Florence Robinson.

Legion Branch 636 euchre game winners for February 9 included, for most lone hands, Bill Menard and Maria Tschida, high scores went to Mary Wilson and Jim Bradbury and others included Vivian Anderson, Bill Kleinschmidt, Mary Wilson, Collin Brenon, Orval Francis and Helen Skelding.

Audrey and Bob Vick and Dorothy McElwain visited last weekend with Bill, Julie and Meighan Woolfrey in Bridgenorth. They also enjoyed a birthday party for May Ralph held at the home of Terry and Lisa Ralph in Peterborough.

Once again we are having an election in Victoria-Haliburton riding. Don't forget to make your choice on March 17 then you can complain to the one elected.

The weekly winners at St. Paul's Anglican church euchre games included Nancy Gayton tied with Marie Dennie for highs and Iris Taylor (6) most lone hands and Betty Hardy.

Legion Seniors euchre winners on Tuesday afternoon included Jack Chilton, Marie Dennie, Georgina Parkes and lone hands going to Verna McDonald. Everyone is welcome to attend these sessions and enjoy the games.

Bridge game winners at the Stanhope Centre Tuesday afternoon were June Branning and Lyle Lucas. Everyone is welcome to attend the games every Tuesday.

A lively group enjoyed their euchre games at Gelert Centre on February 15 and the winners there included Bruce O'Brien, Dorothy Milburn, Mervin Gilbert and Gladys Reid with the lone hands going to Bob Vick. Next games will be March 1 with everyone welcome.

Please note that the Lenten Lunches start Wednesday, February 23 at noon at St. Paul's Anglican Church in Minden. These lunches will continue throughout the Lenten period.

County Town Museum meeting will be held Wednesday, February 23 at 10 a.m. in the Library/Cultural Centre.

Kinmount Winter Carnival will be held February 26 and 27 with many family events, games, tournaments and a cook-out. Looks like a good place to spend a day or two.

Stanhope Seniors celebrated Valentine's Day with a special luncheon and program with 70 attending. The Valentine couple was married 62 years - Mildred and Stan Archer who were serenaded by Jim Taylor, Bob Lewis, Al Dorman and Harry Davis with "I Love You Truly" and presented with a small token gift. Many couples had their photographs taken together and lunch was followed by "horse races" under the direction of Al and Hazel Dorman. Keep March 14 open when the group will celebrate St. Pat's Day with a Jiggs dinner of corned beef and cabbage.

Take a walk down memory lane with the Messiah Choir. Rehearsals for "On Broadway" begin March 1 at the Haliburton United Church at 7:30 p.m.

CARDS OF THANKS

I should like to express my sincere gratitude to Dr. Harry Good, Dr. Holliday-Rhodes, Fr. Brian Parker, Deacon Mark Stagg, the staff and nurses at Hyland Crest and Minden Hospital and Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home for their care during Ken's illness and bereavement. Many thanks also to friends and neighbours for prayers, cards, visits, telephone calls and food. A special thank you to Joachim and Bev Matysek, Sharon and Jack Sykes and all our pals at Club 35.

Betty Campbell and family.

We would like to thank our friends who sent cards, beautiful gifts and best wishes, especially those who came to Mark's Restaurant for dinner on the occasion of our 50th wedding anniversary. Thanks again Emily, it was wonderful.

Arthur and Jean Marsh.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to my nieces and nephews, relations and friends for making my 80th Birthday Celebration such an enjoyable event. Special thanks for the use of The Haven of Rest Church.

Kenneth (Ken) McKnight.

AT REST

SAUNDERS, Godfrey John,

B.A.Sc. P.Eng. - entered into rest peacefully at the Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay on Monday, February 14, 1994. Godfrey Saunders was the beloved husband and best friend of Marie Saunders (Somerton). Loving father of Craig and Melissa of Haliburton, Sean and Helen of Georgetown and Lori and Jason of Brampton. Special granddad to Patrick and Emily. Dear son of Muriel Saunders of Tara and the late Bartholomew Saunders. Brother of Colin and his wife Barb, Hilary, Ann, Mary, Roberta, Valerie and their spouses. Son-in-law of Florence Somerton and brother-in-law of Cindy and Barry Bergey, Brian and Linda Somerton and Hector and Maria Somerton. Fondly remembered by many nieces and nephews.

Friends called at the Mackey Funeral Home, Peel Street, Lindsay on Wednesday and complete funeral service was held from St. Paul's Anglican Church, Russell Street, Lindsay on Thursday, February 17 at 11 a.m. Cremation followed. Memorial donations to an organization of your choice would be appreciated by the family.

IN MEMORIAM

DEACON, Harold - In loving memory of a dear husband and father who left us on February 25, 1988.

The years are quickly passing
But memories stay clear
They're buried deep within our hearts,
And keep him ever near.
Always remembered by Elva and Lois.

BAGSHAW, Thomas C - In loving memory of a dear husband father and grandfather who passed away February 26, 1950. He has gone across the river
To the shores of evergreen
And we long to see his dear face
But the river flows between.
Someday, sometime we shall see

The face we loved so well
Some day we'll clasp his hand
And never say farewell.
Deep in my heart a memory is kept
To love, to cherish never to forget.
Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by wife Vera, son Tommy, daughter-in-law Marilyn and grandchildren Lisa, Kimberly and Tommy Jr.

IN MEMORIAM

JONES, Archie - In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather who passed away February 17, 1993.

Your end came fast and sudden
No time to say goodbye.
You were gone before we realized

And only God knows why.
The things we felt so deeply,
Are the hardest things to say,
But we, your family love you
In a very special way.

A golden heart stopped beating
Two busy hands at rest,
God broke our hearts to prove to us

He only takes the best.
They say memories are golden,
Well, that may be too,
But we never wanted memories,

We only wanted you.
If tears could build a stairway,
And heartaches make a lane,
We could walk a path to Heaven
And bring you back again.

Our family chain was broken
And nothing is the same,
But as God calls us one by one
The chain will link again.
Sadly missed by beloved wife Vera and family.
